THE WARNING AT THE BRIDGE.

In the year 1861, I was superintendent of the Howrich and Rocky River Railroad.

It was a line that done a good run of business, connecting as it did a great city with a flourishing back country, and we run a pretty good number of trains over the rails in the course of twenty four hours.

The daily trains were every hour, but after nine in the evening there was only one train until the steamboat accommodation of half past three in the morning.

This intervening train was the Belport mail. It was made up at Belport, and ran as far as Clinton, express all the way.

Belport was the large city of which I have spoken, and it was there my office was located, for the business of the road was all settled and arranged at that end of the line.

Of course I give fictitious names, and the reader need not expect to find Belport on any railway map.

12:30 train, or the midnight mail, as it was more frequently designated, was run by Earl Rogers, a young man of seven or eight and twenty, who had been employed on the road for several years.

He was the best engine driver on the corporation, and for that reason he had been elected for the train, because there was a better lookout required by night.

Earl taken all in all, was one of the finest fellows I ever saw.

Frank, handsome, generous to a fault, and very well educated.

He had fallen into the vocation of an engineer more for his love of excitement and danger than anything else, perhaps; and if there was any particularly perilous business to be done, Earl Rodgers was our man.

For some time he had been desperately in love with Laura Demain, the daughter of a rich old fellow, just on the other side of the Rocky river, a half a dozen miles beyond Belport.

This love was fully returned, for Laura was a noble hearted girl and did not care for wealth and ambition when weighed in the balance with love; but old Demain and she were two, and there was no probability of his ever giving his consent.

He had set his heart on her marrying Prince Carleton, a young blood of the vicinity, reputed wealthy, and of an old family.

Demain's opposition naturally made the lovers more determined, and they only waited an increase of Earl's salary to be married, in spite of papa Demain. Earl was a faithful fellow, and I was doing my best with the company to get an advance for him, with every probability of success.

Somehow, I took a strong interest in Earl's love affairs.

I am an old codger, and love matters are rather out of my line, my forte being the calculating of accounts, the regulation of freight rates; and the management of business so as to secure the fattest dividends to the stockholders.

Perhaps my interest in Earl's love for Laura might be because I most cordially detested Prince Carleton. He was always "blowing" our road, finding fault with the rate of speed with the grade, with the carriages, with the ventilation, with everything in short, for nothing suited him.

Then upon one occasion he and I had a few words neither very pleasant nor very choice and he had called me an old scoundrel, and I returned the compliment with interest. After that we were worse friends than ever.

One dark rainy night in November, just after the nine o'clock train had been got off, and I was sitting in the office trying to balance an account that would not balance, the door opened and Earl Rogers walked in. He had on his waterproof suit the hood over head, and the collar buttoned closely, but I saw that his face was very pale and his eyes gleamed with an unnattural fire.

"What in the world has happened, Rogers? said I. You look as glum as if you were going to your own funeral."

"Mr. Woodbury," said he earnestly. "Do you believe in presentments?"

"No," said I. "I certainly do not, they are old woman's whims!"

"Perhaps so. I wish I could think so," said he sadly. "I have been trying hard to."

"What is it Earl? Anything gone wrong with Laura?" for I did not know but the little jade had been playing off with him after the manner of women.

"No, you will laugh at me, Mr. Woodbnry, but I must tell somebody, or I will go out of my wits," said he half laughing, "and before heaven I tell you it is all truth. Thursday afternoon I took a hand car and went over to Rocky River Bridge. I do not mind confessing that I went on purpose to get a glimpse of her home—perhaps of herself. I stood at one end of the bridge, looking across at the house, enraptured at the sight of a scarlet shaw! which I knew was hers flitting in and out through the shrubbery of the garden.

"And while I was looking at her I heard footsteps, and glancing up I saw myself coming up from the opposite side of the bridge! I was dressed in this suit of waterproof, my face was as pale as death, and my wide open eyes were blank and expressionless!

"Sir, you think I am dazed, but I'm telling you only the truth! While I stood staring at the vision it disappeared, and weak and trembling I came back to town. By the next day—yesterday, I had reasoned myself out of belief in anything of the kind. It was a hallucination, I said, and to prove it so, I would go out there again and see if it would appear for the second time. I went again yesterday, and sir, the same thing was repeated! It will come once more—and then I shall go to my death!"

"Nonsense!" said I. "Come Earl, be honest, and confess that you had been taking too much whisky."

"I never drink anything as you know, Mr. Woodbury," returned he, "and this thing was fearfully real. If I run the mail train out to-night, I shall be killed, and heaven knows what will be the fate of the train! I suppose it could not be taken off for to-night.

"Taken off! What the deuce do you mean?" snapped I, "this road runs trains as advertised! Cowardly engineers to the contrary notwithstanding.

He looked at me sadly, reproachfully—and I could have kicked myself for the way I had spoken to him.

"It was not on my own account sir, said he, but it is only a few days before thanksgiving, and the train will be a full one. If there is an accident it may be a bad one."

"Accident!" said I contemptuously, "fiddlestick. Come in to-morrow, and let us laugh at you."

He bid me good-night gravely and went out.

Presently the clock struck twelve, and I heard three sharp successive whistles that told me that the train was nearly ready.

A strange feeling of apprehension seized me. What if anything should happen?

Yielding to an impulse which would not be controlled, I threw on my overcoat, turned out the gas, locked the office and hurried over to the depot just in season to catch the tail of the rear car and swing myself on board.

Earl Rogers stood at his post, pale and silent, yet altered and watchful.

By the head light on the locomotive he could see the track for half a mile ahead, and his keen eye scanned every inch of the way as the train swept on.

Past Roman station—past the Mill Cut—past Hill's embankment, and they plunged into the belt of woods which skirted Rocky River.

Suddenly, as they swept around the curve Earl's cheek whitened and he drew his breath in quick and hard!

What he saw before the train warned him that only death and destruction lay ahead.

He could probably save himself by leaping off, but that would doom all on board.

Not a second did he hesitate.

The sharp whistle to down breaks sounded. He reversed steam and did everything in his power to stop the train.

When he saw that his efforts were in vain, that the obstacle which lay across the track only a few rods in advance could not be avoided, he sprang over the woodbox and unlocked from the carriages the engine released from the drag, shot ahead, and the next instant plunged forward into the gulf.

There was a crash, a succession of shrill whistles from the escaping steam, all was still!

Not one of the carriages went down, the first one halted on the very brink of the abyss, as if to impress more fearfully upon the minds of the passengers the terrible danger they had escaped. Before the train had come to a stop, I had jumped out and was flying forward, looking for Earl Rogers.

They pointed into the river in answer to my inquiries, and seizing a lantern from the hand of one of the brakesmen, I soon climbed down the bank and found him.

He lay under a wreck of the locomotive, pale and bloody, with no breath coming from his icy lips.

The two stokers were a little way off, stone dead.

I am an old man, but I didn't feel the weight of that poor fellow as I carried him up the bank, and on to the house of Demain, which happened to be the nearest residence.

Of course old Demain could not refuse admittance under the circumstances, and in five minutes Laura was with me trying to restore the lifeless man to consciusness.

She was all courage and hope; but for her we should have given him up for dead; and I to this day firmly believe that her presence and her care brought him back from death.

She never flinched while the surgeon amputated his leg at the knee, it was the only way to save him, Doctor Green said, and Laura held the poor head of her patient to her bosom, and his hands in hers through the whole operation.

The accident, it was found had been occasioned by a stick of timber across the track, and the railroad company offered a reward of a thousand dollars for the discovery of the rascally perpetrator.

No matter how we found it out, but it was ascertained beyond a doubt that Prince Carleton was the guilty party.

He confessed it when we had him snug and safe, and said that he wanted Earl Rogers out of the way, and because he hated the whole concern—meaning the railroad and the corporation, he had formed this plan of diabolical revenge.

His father was a millionaire, and bought up our silence handsomely.

Prince went to California, and I do not know what became of him.

Old Demain proved himself a trump after all, and gave in gracefully.

He is dead now, and Earl and Laura live at the old place as happy a couple as you ever saw. As for Earl's warning, you may believe what you like about it.

THE LADIES' COLUMN.

Lamb chops: Fry them a light brown in butter, then add a little water, flour, salt, and a dust of pepper, to the gravy; let it brown, and pour it over the chops.

To clean window and looking-glass: After having washed and rinsed your glass as usual, dry it some with a cloth then take soft news or tissue paper, and rub until perfectly clear.

Sauce for the above pudding: One cup of butter, half a cup of sugar, yolk of one egg; beat together; stir in half a cup of boiling water. Let it come to a boil, and when ready for use, flavor to taste.

Buttermilk pudding: Two eggs, two cups of sugar, half a cup of butter, one teaspoonful of soda sifted in two cups of flour, three cups of buttermilk; stir the flour in lightly. Grease your tin, and bake one hour. It can be turned out.

Railroad cake: Three eggs, one cup of sugar, one large spoonful of butter. beat together; stir in lightly one cup of flour, a little yeast powder, or soda sifted in flour. Bake in quick oven. This is a fine dessert with the above sauce.

Short cakes: Dissolve half a pound of fresh butter in as much milk as will make a pound and a half of flour in a paste, roll it out about a quarter of an inch thick, and cut it into large round cakes. Do them in a frying pan and serve them hot. Eat with butter.

Cream griddle cakes: One quart of sour cream, four beaten eggs, one teaspoonful of salt, two of soda, and one pint of flour; mix the soda in half the flour, and stir it in last; bake as soon as mixed, and serve immediately; add more flour if not thick enough to suit.

A cheap and good pie: In half a teacup of vinegar put one tablespoonful of butter, one teacup of molasses, one teacup of dried currants, one egg, and a little nutmeg. Roll two soda crackers fine, and add to the above, and you will have material enough for two pies. Try them, and you will make more.

Cream drop cake: A half pint of rich cream, and a half pint of egg, beat the yolks and whites separately; add a teaspoonful of salt, and as much flour as can be beat in with a spoon; it should be just thick enough to drop from a spoon; butter pans, and drop the cake on it: let it bake hard. If the cream is sour, add soda.

Soft chocolate cake: One pound of sugar, twenty eggs beat half an hour without separating, half a pound of grated chocolate added gradually to the egg and sugar, with three-fourths of a pound of starch flour; the whole beaten half an hour. Butter the forms, and sprinkle them with pulverized crackers, and turn in the mixture.

American raised waffles: One pint of sweet milk, one heaping teacupful of butter, three eggs, a tablespoonful of thick brewer's yeast, one quart of flour, and another teacupful of sweet milk, in which is dissolved a quarter of a teaspoonful of soda. Let it rise until very light, then bake as other waffles. Serve hot with butter and sugar.

German hard chocolate cake; Grate and sift half a pound of chocolate.—Beat the yolks of two eggs, and add the chocolate gradually; add the whites of six eggs, beaten to snow, to the yolks and chocolate; beat well, and if not sweet enough add sugar.—If the chocolate is good, they will be sufficiently sweet. Take off small bits with a teaspoon, and bake on buttered paper.

Vanities: Take two eggs, beat without separating as light as possible; add a teaspoonful of salt, and wet up as much flour as will roll; they should be pretty stiff. Bake small bits of the dough, not larger than a teaspoonbowl, roll them in the hand until quite round, drudge the moulding-board with flour, and roll as thin as possible. Fry in sweet lard that has not been used to fry in before.

Apply pudding: Take six tart apples, pippins or greenings are the best; steam them without peeling, after washing them quite clean; strain them through a sieve. Add six spoonfuls of melted butter and the same of sugar, six eggs, half a wineglassful of brandy, and the juice of one lemon. Line a pudding dish with puff-paste, and bake it. Serve hot or cold with sweet cream without sugar.

Washing flannels: Make a hot suds with good soft soap; put in the flannels and let them lie a few minutes; then wash thoroughly with the hands. Have ready some boiling water; dissolve a little blueing or indigo, and pour on it sufficient of the hot water to prove the goods; put them in, and let them remain until cold enough to wring. Dry in the air, and iron when slightly damp. Iron on the right side.

Mutton kidneys broiled: Skin and split without parting asunder; skewer them through the outer edge and keep them flat; lay the opened sides first to the fire, which should be clear and brisk, in ten minutes turn them; sprinkle with salt and Cayenne, and when done, which will be in three minutes afterwards, take them from the fire, put a piece of butter inside them, squeeze some lemon-juice over them, and serve as hot as possible.

Sugar kisses to make quickly: Beat the whites of four eggs stiff, flavor with vanilla; lay sheets of white paper on a board, beat gradually one pound of powdered loaf-sugar in the egg, and drop them in small half egg-shaped piles on the paper, dry them in a moderate oven without browning; lay the boards that it may not scorch; pine boards will not do. When stiff, take them up with a knife, and lay the two together, making them egg-shaped.

FARMERS' COLUMN.

A well-drained, well-worked soil will make good hay, and no other soil will do it.

The Canada Farmer says that the natural course of vegetation does not exhaust, but rather enriches the soil, by eliminating plant food, and restoring it to the land in decayed vegetable matter. It is the artificial method of growing crops and removing them entirely from the land, without any return, that exhausts or impoverishes.

Something may be done this month in getting together materials for fences. On most farms a portion of the fence is of wood. On some entirely so. Posts may be split out and morticed, and rails sharpened. For "bars" that are frequently to be taken down they should be straight, light, smooth, and made of strong material.

Associated dairies originated in Switzerland, where the poor peasants were obliged to combine the milk of their single cows to make cheese to compete with their rich neighbors. American dairymen combine to perfect their productions, by securing the best conveniences and appliances for converting milk into cheese and butter, fit for transportation, and of a style that shall suit the taste of consumers,

A mysterious and alarming cattle disease has appeared at Catawba, Clark county, Ohio. Cows have been milked according to custom in the evening, and nothing unusual was noticed.—Shortly after they became uneasy, and in five minutes fell down dead. They commenced swelling shortly after—so much so that they burst when the hide was punctured. An examinatien was made by skilled cattle men, but they could ascribe no cause for their death.

Millions of dollars are yearly received for fruit, where but a quarter of a century ago, there was no one thought of selling. And this is the case to a greater or lesser extent with many other products. Potatoes are an important cash crop in many places where but a few years ago there was no demand for them. There is an increasing demand for the various animal products; many of which are made from grass, hay, and other coarse and cheap feed. And yet, after fruit, some of these products are foremost among those increasing the fastest in value.—Many of these products are cheaply grown in mixed farming, the refuse of some products affording food for others.

The Sweet Potato.—The New Orleans Picayune says that the sweet potato impoverishes the soil far less than grain crops, and is produced in far greater abundance. It yields from 15,000 to 20,000 pounds to the acre, while corn yields only from 1,000 to 1,200 pounds. The trouble has been that these potatoes cannot be kept. A process of dessication has been invented and put in practice, by which this potato is dried and preserved, so as to keep any number of years, good, sweet and valuable as when green. All that will decay is gone. It can be packed in warehouses or sent abroad, or taken as ship stores or the like, with perfect safety.

How to Keep Eggs.—As frequent inquiries are being made in your paper, as to the best method of keeping eggs, I will send one which we have used for several years with success.

Take a lump of quick lime as large as a quart measure, slake it in a common water pail; dissolve half a pint of coarse salt and add to it, then fill the pail with water, and let it stand till entirely settled, then pour the pure liquid over the eggs, which must be set on the small end, in a jar or tube, after having been minutely examined to see that none are cracked. Eggs put up in this way last May are perfectly fresh now.

The eggs can be held in place by a plate or bit of slate laid on them before pouring on the lime water.

A good Fertilizer for the Garden.—The following, a simple but good garden compound, has been used with the best results, bringing into requisition material that in many instances would otherwise be wasted (cheap dirt and refuse salt), no insignificant element in the formation of vegetable matter: 12 bushels of ashes; 12 bushels of hen manure; 30 bushels of cheap dirt (or muck). Heap your hen manure in a pile and dampen it with brine from your salt until it heats. Then mix in the other ingredients. The fermentation pulverizes the mass and kills the grubs so apt to be found in cheap dirt, relieving it of a 'doubtful expediency.' This compound is as valuable as poudrette, and can be cured with but small cost and labor, during the calm that preceeds the busy opening of the spring.

To Secure Tender Mutton.—The Practical Farmer says: "Conversing recently with a prominent sheep breeder of New York, who had traveled extensively in England and on the Continent, we inquired his opinion as to the cause of superiority of the English and continental mutton over what is usually found in the American market. He had been struck with this himself, and made it a point of special attention in visiting large flocks, to inquire as to the most approved modes of feeding and management of sheep.

The answer to our question was all comprised in a single sentence, they feed turnips, and with their aid a three or four year old wether, an age which in this country would require nearly a twelve hours' st

AMES AND REVELS.

The radicals are now in the midst of their felicitations over the complete success of reconstruction. They may contemplate in its full proportions the great work which was begun by Charles Sumner and Thaddeus Stevens in revenge of personal injuries; by the one because of the burning of his property during the war, and by the other on account of the blow received from Brooks. What they left unfinished has been concluded by the malignant Butler. To the personal hatred which has animated the hearts of these three men does the country owe this curse. Reconstruction is now producing its fruits. While one of the premature spawn of this coition of the sword and the negro ballot, the carpet-bagger Whittemore, is being ejected from the halls of Congress, the vagrant negro preacher, Revels, and Ames, the brigadier general, are about to make their entrance. The mind that is not shocked by these apparitions in the Senate Chamber of the United States must have been sadly corrupted by radical teachings and practices. Revels after his wanderings, and his prowlings among the lambkins of many a black flock, turns up in time for United States Senator. Ames after carrying the elections in Mississippi by the sword; after putting his dragoons in the election board, and his creatures in the legislature, has received the reward of all his labors. In these two—the vagabond negro minister and the military satrap—is personified the whole scandalous and wicked work of reconstruction. Revels comes to the Senate of the United States with the certificate of his election signed by Brigadier General Ames. The latter has wrenched his election from the negro legislature of Mississippi by his sword.—Neither of them is a citizen of that State, and some radicals, not yet prepared to accept the disgraceful situation, insist that under the Dred Scott decision, Revels is not a citizen of the United States. Ames represents nothing but the army and the principle of servitude and of brute force. His admission to a seat in the Senate is the deepest insult to popular government that radicalism in its hatred of the people has yet invented. The negro preacher survives all his infamous adventures and throws aside the clerical garment which he has defiled to put on the robe of a Senator of the United States. The brigadier who, Gesler-like, planted the banner of oppression in Mississippi, has escaped the bullets of his victims to stalk booted and spurred into the Senate chamber.—The appearance of the Gaul in the Senate of Rome was met by the conscript fathers with dignity and pride. The degraded American Senate welcome this proconsul from the negro province of Mississippi, who exhibits credentials covered all over with oppression and crime.

Left to themselves the negroes of Mississippi would never have dreamed of returning this black bird of passage to the Senate. But they were assured that they could do nothing that would fill the souls of the Butlers, Sumners, Wilsons and Chandlers with such ecstatic delight as the appearance of a stray negro in the seat once occupied by Jefferson Davis. The negroes were made the tools of these malignant masters. They never could have conceived the subtle and refined revenge of which their radical half cousins of the north are capable. They never, it must be confessed, could be guilty of half the meanness implied in this act. In this straggling negro the radical leaders wanted to show the world how completely they have degraded the cultivated and intelligent white people of the South.

In the admission of Ames they propose to insult the whole people.—Through him they mean to show how effectually they have stifled the spirit of liberty in this land. Ames had scarcely completed his villanous work; he had hardly done calling the roll of his vassals in the Mississippi legislature, until they were summoned to choose him a Senator of the United States.

Revels and Ames! These two names are at this hour the most odious that rise to the lips of every lover of decent liberty in the land. They represent the degradation to which the nation is being reduced by a party with whose leaders no villany is too gross. These two individuals are the representatives of military power and of the ignorance and servility of the negroes of the South. They come to the Senate of the United States at a time when that body has fearfully degenerated. They enter a chamber which, at this day, cannot count five men who deserve the name of statesmen, or even of sagacious politicians. The admission of the military satrap and of the straggling negro will show that they have miscalculated in imagining that the American people is dead to every insult that their stupidity and malice may suggest.

A BILL FOR THE SUBJUGATION OF THE PEOPLE.

What was frequently predicted in these columns in regard to the real purpose of the authors of the Fifteenth Amendment, is now in the course of speedy verification. Mr. Morton, in the United States Senate, has presented a bill of pains and penalties for the enforcement of the Amendment, which utterly ignores the right of the people of the Several States, through their legislatures, to adopt rules for the regulations of elections, and assumes that Congress, in common with the legislatures, possesses the power to make such rules. Mr. Bingham, in the House of Representatives, has offered a similar proposition. But the Morton and Bingham bills, outrageous though they be, are innocent in comparison with the following which is now under consideration in Congress:

"An Act to enforce the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled:

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Interior to appoint, or cause to be appointed, three Commissioners for each election district of the several Congressional districts of the United States, to enforce the provisions of the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution. The said Commissioners for such purpose shall have the sole right to decide on the qualifications of all voters who shall offer to vote for members of Congress or Electors for President and Vice President, and the exclusive authority to receive the ballots cast at any such election.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of Commissioners to certify the result of the election in their districts respectively, duly sealed, to the said Secretary of the Interior.

SEC. 3. The Secretary of the Interior shall certify under his hand and seal the names of the persons who appear to him by the aforesaid returns to be elected members of Congress or electors for President and Vice President, and the persons who shall receive such certificate of election shall hold the office or exercise the authority therein designated, subject to the sixth section of this act.

SEC. 4. It shall be the duty of the United States Marshals in their respective districts to sustain the Commissioners of Election herein provided for in the performance of their duties, and shall detail a sufficient force of deputies to secure order at the Elections herein provided for; and in the event of the force of any such Marshal proving inadequate, the Marshal shall have the right to call on the nearest commanding officer of troops of the United States to aid such Marshal to preserve order.

SEC. 5. It shall be the duty of the Secretary of War to so station the troops of the United States, immediately preceding any election herein provided for, at convenient points adjacent to the principal polling places of the several Congressional districts, and in the principal cities a commanding force of such troops shall be encamped in the parks or other suitable places of such cities, at and preceding any election as aforesaid.

SEC. 6. All questions in regard to the regularity and fairness of the election of members of Congress shall be referred by the Secretary of the Interior to the House of Representatives who shall have exclusive jurisdiction thereof; and in like manner all questions relating to the election of electors for President and Vice President shall be referred to the President, who shall appoint a committee of not less than three suitable persons to examine and decide all such questions, and whose decision shall be final and conclusive.

SEC. 7. This subject shall go into effect when Congress shall, by resolution declare that three-fourths of the States have ratified the proposed Fifteenth Amendment, and have decreed that the Constitution is amended accordingly."

This is simply a proposition to constitute a member of the President's cabinet the judge of elections for the whole country. If it should be enacted into a law, the Secretary of the Interior would appoint upwards of six thousand election officials for this State, and more than one hundred thousand for the entire Union. This army of Federal appointees would, of course, be expected by their masters to carry the elections for the party in power. With the ballot-box under their own control, they would not be very likely to disappoint such expectations. But, if they should not succeed, the Secretary of the Interior will be able to redeem their failure.—He is to certify to Congress the names of the persons who appear to him by the returns to have been elected. It would, doubtless, appear to him, as it often does to the Election Committee in Congress, that a candidate to whom he is opposed was not elected, though he received several thousand more votes than his opponent.

But if one part of this bill is more atrocious and infamous than another, it is that which provides that the Secretary of War shall station United States troops at convenient places adjacent to the principal polling places of the several Congressional districts and in the parks of the principal cities, whilst elections are being held. The country is to be made a vast military camp to be occupied by the Federal soldiery as a menace to freemen who dare to differ from the policy of Congress or the Administration. If this bill become a law and the States and the people submit to it, the prediction of General Blair that Grant means to perpetuate himself in the Presidency, will have come true. The coup d'etat of Napoleon III, which transformed a republican President into a crowned Emperor, will have been, in effect, repeated in the United States of America. Such is one of the results with which the country is threatened by the fraudulent ratification of the Fifteenth Amendment. It will soon be more clearly seen that the object of the men who forced that measure upon the people, was not so much the enfranchisement of the African as the enslavement of the Anglo-Saxon, not so much the extension of the right of suffrage as the power to manipulate the ballot-box in their own interest.

NEGRO EQUALITY.

Revels has at last been admitted to a seat in the United States Senate.—His brother Sumner, and other miscegen Senators, have at last got their peer, a proper associate. They are now in their glory, and with exceeding great joy are revelling with Revels. The colored man after being emancipated and enfranchised, is now represented in the United States Senate. In the Southern States there are an abundance of negroes to fill seats in the legislatures and to occupy other official positions, but not enough of them to work on the plantations. The negroes in the South attend to the affairs of the government, and the poor whites do the work. The people will soon learn whether these extraordinary privileges suddenly conferred upon the emancipated blacks, will be wise or unwise—a blessing or a curse. This equality which radicalism has thrust upon the black man was accomplished at a fearful sacrifice of treasure and blood. It has cost three thousand millions of dollars and the lives of one million of white men.

In the Washington correspondence of the N. Y. Tribune, under date of day before yesterday, we find the following:

"Mr. Brown, attorney for the Kentuckey bourbon and Pennsylvania rye distillers, with other friends of the measure for the extension of time for the withdrawing spirits in bond, have delayed urging immediate action owing to the absence of Commissioner Delano in New York and of Representatives Covode and Cessna in Pennsylvania, who are strong friends of the measure.

Aha! In the whisky Ring is it that we find the honorable gentlemen from Pennsylvania! President Black of the State Temperance Union, is respectfully requested to look after the first vice president of that institution, the representative from the Sixteenth Congressional District. Cessna should be told by some of his Temperance friends that he cannot ride their nag with a whisky barrel on his shoulder.

THE morale of the dominant party in Congress has become utterly degraded. Corruption in Congress is the only theme talked of. Radicalism is certainly approaching a crisis in its career. In investigating the case of one of the members of the House, it uncovered a dozen of others guilty of the same offense. Radical rascality has become so shameless and offensive that even some of the most radical are becoming disgusted with it.

[From the Fulton Republican.]

THE SCULL-FINDLAY CASE.

Mr. Scull has addressed a letter to the Committee declining to prosecute his claims any further, and this settles the question, while Findlay retains his seat.

We now desire the Bedford politicians, composed of John Cessna as chief, and the smaller fry, Russell, Williams, Minnich, Conley, and a few others to tell us what they gained by interfering with the Conference to break it up, and afterwards force the regular nominee off the track? We have lost a senator, and allowed a Democrat to be elected in a district strongly Republican; and why? That John Cessna might override the majority of the District this coming fall. In the loss of a Senator, the District has learned that a corrupt, unprincipled politician cannot override the people.

John Cessna when he promised all the district, ward, and borough politician of Somerset during the campaign of 1868, a position if they would work for his election, and then failed to fulfill every promise, opened the eyes of the voters of Somerset, and disabled him from practicing a similar fraud in 1869; when he tried to appear so disinterested in the substitution of Scull for Stutzman. But it will not win. "A burnt child dreads fire." If you desire the confidence of the people, speak the truth, and act honestly. You will not dare say that you are not a bare-faced liar, for if you do, we will convict you on the testimony of good, responsible men, that you wrote us bare-faced lies. Deny this if you dare, and we will convict you on your own hand writing.

No, Mr. Cessna, you can't carry this Congressional District in your breeches pocket, though you boasted to us that you could control the nomination, and always "did those little things."

Prepare yourself Johnny, for you have a big job on hand for next fall. Fulton county wants a Representative, and of course you want to run Jonathan. Bedford wants a Congressman, and of course you want that.—Franklin wants a Revenue position, and of course you have not that to give since Scull was defeated. Stutzman wants satisfaction to the tune of five or six hundred voters in Somerset county, and of course you can't help that, and we have a few prominent Republicans in Fulton, who have an old score to settle about your running Jonathan for State Senator last fall in this county.

For the present we will close, but give you the particulars as they occur.

The Captain General of Cuba has issued a decree granting liberty to 2,000 negro prisoners of war, who had been hired out by the Government with the understanding that they were to become slaves after a certain date.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.

The features of the Senate's proceedings yesterday was the onslaught of Senator Chandler upon General Fitz-John Porter. He opposed a reopening of the case, and made incidental denunciations of General McClellan and Franklin. His authority for a long restatement of the charges against General Porter was the redoubtable Pope whose reputation for veracity, the public will remember, was none of the best during the war. Mr. Wilson replied to Chandler in a moderate speech, expressing his willingness to give Porter another chance.—Mr. Howard introduced a bill to establish a territorial government in Alaska. Patterson, from the Committee on Retrenchment, reported a bill to abolish the Freedmen's Bureau and provide for the Bureau of Education. Bills were passed by the Senate—to provide for the better security of the lives of passengers on board of vessels propelled by steam, and to organize the Marine Hospital service and provide for the relief of sick and disabled seamen. The reports of the Committee of Conference on the Naval Appropriation bill, fixing the amount of appropriation at $2,000,000, was concurred in. A joint resolution directed that no speech not actually delivered in Congress shall be printed in the Globe was passed immediately. The bill to aid the New York and Washington Air-Line Railroad was up when the Senate went into executive session. The proceedings in the House of Representatives were important and interesting. The resolution of Mr. Loughridge instructing the Committee on Banking to report a bill increasing the currency to $50,000,000 was taken up and passed by a vote of yeas 110, nays 71. About forty members were absent. The committee are known to be opposed to any increase of the currency, but they will be obliged of course, to report a bill back to the House, when the struggle will be renewed. Bills were introduced—to enforce the fifteenth amendment, to prohibit the sale of arms and munitions of war to foreign states while carrying on actual hostilties, to abolish the office of Pension Agent, and to reduce the income tax to three per cent. and exempting $3,000 therefrom. B. F. Butler reported favorably the Senate bill removing political disabilities from five hundred people. A long discussion followed, in which many of the members took occasion to express their opinion on a general amnesty, and Messrs. Cox and Covode piously quoted Scripture. The bill passed by a two-thirds majority. The Committee on Military Affairs reported through General Logan the result of their investigations in the sale of cadetships, and recommended the expulsion of B. F. Whittemore, a Radical member from South Carolina, for bribery and corruption. The report was signed by all the committee. At the suggestion of Mr. Poland, the matter was postponed until to-morrow, in order to give Whittemore an opportunity to prepare his defense. Butler and other extreme Radicals fought desperately for delay.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.

The United States Senate yesterday declared emphatically against the issue of any more paper money, in a resolution presented by Mr. Williams. It passed without a division. The Senate concurred in the House amendment to the Political Disability bill.—Speeches on the Funding bill were made by Mr. Fenton and Mr. Patterson. The Mississippi negro Senator matter was taken up, and Mr. Saulsbury delivered an elaborate argument in opposition to the admission of Revels, taking the position that he had not been nine years a citizen of the United States. A vote was not reached when the Senate adjourned. In the House of Representatives the Whittemore case came up. The late member then attempted to make a speech in his own defense, but was checked by the Speaker, on the ground that he was no longer a member of the House. The original resolution of expulsion was laid upon the table, and General Logan offered a resolution declaring that B. F. Whittemore, the late member from South Carolina, had been guilty of conduct which rendered him unworthy to occupy a seat on the floor. The resolution was unanimously adopted—Butler and a few others refusing to vote. Mr. Whittemore then packed up his papers and departed.—The House afterwards went into Committee on the Appropriation bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26

The negro has taken his seat in the Senate Chamber. After a long debate, in which many of the leading Senators on both sides participated, the Senate voted down the resolution of Mr. Stockton to refer the credentials of Revels to the Judiciary Committee, and admitted him by a strict party vote, 48 to 8. Senator Wilson ostentatiously conducted his black brother to a seat, and the Radical Senators crowded around with their congratulations. Mr. Hamlin introduced a bill to provide a territorial government for the District of Columbia. Mr. Wilson introduced a bill to prevent and punish prize-fighting in the United States. Two years' imprisonment and $3,000 fine are the penalties. Mr. Howard introduced a bill to divide the State of Texas, and to establish the Territories of Jefferson and Matagorda. The bill carves the State into three equal parts; Jefferson being to the east and Matagorda to the west of what is left of Texas. In the House of Representatives bills were introduced to establish a Department of Justice and a system of national education. Butler from the Reconstruction Committee, reported a bill to admit the State of Georgia to a representation to Congress on the terms accorded to Virginia. So much objection was made that the bill was recommitted. On motion of Mr. Shanks, the Military Committee was instructed to extend its investigations into the actions of officers of the army and navy in respect to the purchase and sale of cadetships. The House, while considering the Indian Appropriation bill, entered into a general discussion of the late atrocious massacre of Indian women and children on the Plains by order of General Sheridan. Mr. Eldridge (Dem.) characterized Sheridan's order as infamous. Mr. Stevenson (Rad.) stood by the order, and believed that when we fight the Indians it must be to kill. Mr. Mungen (Dem.) thought fighting the Indians vigorously was well enough, but he would not "jump into a little Indian sick with small-pox, and kill him." Both House adjourned over till Monday.

If the State of Pennsylvania is to begin to pay out millions of dollars for barns burned and haystacks consumed during the rebel raid, how much ought she to pay out to the widows of the war for the loss of their husbands and the orphans for the loss of their fathers? Is a barn a greater loss to a well off farmer than a husband to a working woman?—Philadelphia Press.

If the Press knew the facts, it would be better qualified to speak on the subject. Some of the losses sustained, were sustained by very poor people, who had everything stolen and appropriated that they owned. Some of the claimants were widows, whose sons were in the army, and who, after giving their sons, had their property stolen. Did John W. Forney give a son or two? Did he have the Chronicle destroyed and ask no compensation?—Did he do all his advertisements in the Chronicle and Press for nothing during the war? If not, gratuitous advice is not at par in this country. If John W. Forney will pay some of the money he stole from the Government during the war, a good portion of the claims could be paid.—Fulton Republican.

BEDFORD REPUBLICAN MEETING.—At a meeting held at Bedford lately, a resolution was offered, (probably prepared by John Cessna) endorsing Mr. Cessna as a Congressman. We would like to know whether the resolution was intended to cover his action in the Bedford Post Office matter? Did it also cover his action in the defeat of the Senatorial District? And last, but not least, is there a republican paper in Bedford County that dare speak the truth, and say what they think about those matters?—Fulton Republican.

NEWS ITEMS.

The long-expected trial of the Mordaunt divorce case began in London last week. It will be remembered that Sir Charles Mordaunt charges his wife with criminal intercourse with a number of gentlemen, among them the Prince of Wales. The charge is based on her own confession and the attentions of the Prince and others to her. The friends of Lady Mordaunt plead that she is insane. It is said in English papers that the Queen sent for Sir Charles, and begged him not to press his suit, on account of the scandal that would ensue, and that the wronged husband flatly refused. At the trial, last week, the Prince was on the stand. He admitted the acquaintanceship with Lady Mordaunt, but solemnly asseverated that there had never been any improper intimacy between himself and the lady. The declaration was received with immense cheering by the loyal spectators in the court-room.

A girl in Chester, Vt., died a few days ago from tight lacing. For several months previous to her death this poor victim had been obliged to sleep with corsets on, and tightened to the last notch, for the loosening gave such pain internally that she could not bear it.

The workingmen of Paris receive a very small compensation for their labor. Thus, in 1869, there were 17,203 females who earned from 10 to 25 cents a day; 88,340 who earned from 30 to 80 cents a day, and only 800 who earned from 90 cents to $1 40 a day.

Washington's birthday was celebrated in Paris by a reception, and in Vienna by a banquet, at the hotels of the American Ambassadors. Prime Minister Von Beust honored Mr. Jay's table, and the entire French Cabinet paid their respects to Mr. Washburne.

At Port Chester, New York, on Thursday night, Samuel Bolton was attacked by two men, who cut his throat and robbed him. He will probably recover from his wound.

Episcopalians are more numerous in New York than any other State in the Union. Pennsylvania comes next, with 23,000 communicants, and Connecticut next, with 16,000.

In Toledo, Ohio, last week, a little girl died of strangulation, produced by swallowing a straw, which lodged in her throat in such a manner as to defeat all attempts to remove it.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint, and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver, and put it to work: then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs and the patient outgrows the disease and get, well. This is the only way to cure consumption

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe, a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach nd liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the ood will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall-bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care), that will unlock the gall-bladder and starts the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the Alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills, or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has Consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood: then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

When there is no lung disease, and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all billious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompanying each, make it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr Schenck, unless the patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond Street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists.

An important decision was rendered in the Supreme Court of the United States. In the case of Cheever vs. Wilson et al., the Court decided in the effect that a divorce valid in one State is valid in all the States; in other words, that an Indiana divorce is valid in New York.

Three persons were severely poisoned, in Williamsburg, last week, by drinking from a bottle which they supposed contained brandy. The doctor from whose shelf they had manipulated the drink, was alarmed to find that he was minus a considerable quantity of tincture of aconite. He saved their lives but lost his tincture.

The Hollidaysburg Register is indignant and rebukes its "Republican" friends in this county in the following manner: "Findlay has been awarded his seat in the Senate. Bedford county politicians can 'lay the flattering unction to their souls' that it is their fault that a republican district is represented by a democrat."

J. M. Reynolds, Attorney at Law, offers his services to the public, assuring all who will employ him that their business will be carefully and promptly attended to. Upon notice will appear for parties in suits before Justices of the Peace in any part of the county. Office with J. W. Dickerson, Esq., on Juliana St, next door north of Mengel House. See card in another column.

A HOP.—Lovers of terpsichorean exercise had quite a pleasant hop at the Arandale House, on Thursday night of last week. The "youth and beauty" of this place were there, and the affair was kept up to the "wee sma hours." Ye local—who never ventures in the "giddy maze"—was not there, but has learned from those who were, that it was a splendid 'occasion,' and all enjoyed themselves hugely.

REAL ESTATE SALES.—William M. Lloyd purchased, last week, the corner of the Blymyer property, on Pitt street, 25 feet front and 60 feet deep, for $4,000. Mr. Lloyd also purchased four lots of O. E. Shannon, on the corner of Main and Bedford streets, opposite the Presbyterian parsonage, for $2,000.

H. W. Fisher sold a lot on the corner of Richard and Watson streets, in the Watson extension, to William Hartley, for $500.

There is a time-honored custom in Bedford wherein the Sheriff one day in the year treats the famished lawyers and editors to a good dinner. We think their cases should be referred to the Directors of the Poor, as well.—Huntingdon Globe.

Now, don't be so severe because you are not similarly favored. However, we'll have our Sheriff invite you next time, so that you can for once enjoy a square meal. Have "sour-kraut?" Eh?

ALL IN THE FAMILY.—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that deeds given for the purpose of transferring the legal title to land from husband to wife, through the intervention of a trustee, with merely a nominal consideration, require only a five cent stamp each, as agreements or contracts not specially designated in stamp schedule "B." They do not require a conveyance stamp, as really it is not sold.

ANOTHER RAILROAD.—The citizens of Hollidaysburg held a meeting last week in the interest of a railroad from that place to Martinsburg. Ten thousand dollars were subscribed, which, say the Hollidaysburg papers, insures the success of the road. It is proposed at some future day to extend the road through Morrison's Cove to Hopewell.

OFFICERS ELECTED.—At a recent meeting of the stockholders of the Stump Inslands Oil Company, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, William Hartley; Secretary and Treasurer, S. S. Metzger; Directors, Dr. G. W. Anderson, O. E. Shannon J. R. Jordan, J. M. Shoemaker, G. D. Shuck and William Hartley. The affairs of this company are in a flourishing condition. Two wells are now yielding together about one hundred and twenty five barrels of oil daily. Two more wells are now being put down by the company.

NEGLECTED COUGHS AND COLDS.—Few are aware of the importance of checking a Cough or "Common Cold," in its first stage; that which in the beginning would yield to a mild remedy, if neglected, soon preys upon the Lungs. 'Brown's Bronchial Troches,' or Cough Lozenges, afford instant relief. Owing to the good reputation and popularity of the Troches, many worthless and cheap imitations are offered, which are good for nothing. Be sure to obtain the true "Brown's Bronchial Troches." Sold everywhere.

HUGE HOGS.—Bedford County Ahead!—St. Clair Caps the Climax of Portly Porkers!—Bedford county may be slow on some things but she certainly is some on hogs. If we remember correctly, St. Clair furnished us last year with the biggest hog item, but now she sends greeting with the largest porker that has been slaughtered in this county for many years. A few days ago Mr. Joseph Moore, of that township, killed a grunter that pulled on a Fairbank's to the tune of 715½ pounds! Trot out your squeeler to beat that fellow!

Mr. Samuel Beckly, of the same township, killed one that weighed 500 pounds. St. Clair can go up head.—She stands number one on the hog question.

BONE FELON.—Of all painful things can there be any so excruciatingly painful as a bone fellon? We know of none that flesh is heir to, and, as this malady is quite frequent and the subject of much earnest consideration, we give the last recipe for its cure, which is given by that high authority, the London Lancet: "As soon as the pulsation which indicates the disease is felt put directly over the spot a fly blister about the size of your thumb nail, and let it remain for six hours, at the expiration of which time, directly under the surface of the blister, may be seen the felon, which can be instantly taken out with the point of a needle or a lancet."

The microscope shows the color of the hair due to a deposition of pigment in its substance. When the hair glands become enfeebled, this pigment fails. One after another the hairs become white, or fall out, producing baldness. Baldness is easy to prevent but hard to cure. Ayer's Hair Vigor stops it; even restores the hair sometimes; always restores its color. Immediate renovation is at once visible: softness, freshness and the gloss of youth. This great ornament should be preserved since it can be by Ayer's Hair Vigor, which is beautifully clean and free from anything injurious to the hair. [Tribune, Springville, N. Y.

BUTTER.—The amount of butter made in Somerset county, last year says the Democrat, will reach 20,000 kegs. One-fourth has already been sold at an average of 36 cents per pound—or $20 per keg; one-fourth at an average of 30 cents, or $17 per keg; one-fourth unsold will average 18 cents, or $10 per keg; one-fourth unsold will average 15 cents, or $9 per keg. This will give a common average of $14 per keg on 20,000 kegs—$280,000 which is the total amount of revenue for Somerset county for her great staple of butter. With proper railroad facilities to transport fresh butter to market, it is estimated that $23 a keg could have been realized, which would make a difference of $180.00 on the total product. This fact is strongly urged by those who are laboring so earnestly to place that county in railroad communication with the eastern cities.

RAILROAD ENTERPRISE.—Our Somerset neighbors are laboring for railroad facilities to their county seat with a zeal that is truly commendable. Already subscriptions to the amount of of $43,500 have been raised, and the work still goes bravely on. This subscription is made up of 870 shares at $50 each, and by analizing it we find the following facts: 14 persons subscribed $1,000 each; 15, $500; 13, $300; 17, $250; 4, $200; 14, $150; 45 $100, and 129, $50 each, making 251 subscribers in all. It will be seen that more than one half of the subscribers are persons who gave but $50 each, which was perhaps far more in proportion to their wealth than those who subscribed their hundreds. We refer to this merely to show that the people of that section feel the necessity of a railroad communication and are determined to have it if a united effort and liberal subscriptions can accomplish it. And we have no doubt that they will suceed in having the boon for which they are so earnestly laboring.

PITTSBURG FEMALE COLLEGE.—The present term of this sterling institution will close with the Essay contest by members of the senior class, on the evening of the 11th of March.—Preparations are in progress for the closing exercises which promise to be unusually attractive and interesting.

We are pleased to learn that the term now closing is more prosperous than the corresponding one of last year, and that the prospects for the spring term, which will commence Tuesday, March 22, are unusually flattering. Applications for the admission of boarders and day pupils are received almost daily. Though a month will elapse before the opening of the spring term, but very few vacancies are left. We trust our readers will understand that we mean what we say, when we state that persons desiring admission to the boarding department must make early application. The continued prosperity of the College, while so many schools are declining, is the best comment on its excellent management. It richly deserves its large and widely extended patronage.

PERIODICALS.

Messrs. D. Lothrop & Co., of Boston, send us a package of six juvenile volumes, entitled (Teachers' Gift Books) of 18 mo. size, neatly done up in paper covers, and containing about 60 pages each. The stories are sensible, high-toned, full of life and zest, and teach noble lessons, such as little people will be likely to learn, remember and profit. They are fitting presents from a teacher or parent, and the books are cheap as well as good.—They can be obtained of the publishers by mail, postpaid, for 40 cents a package.

Messrs. Lothrop & Co., have issued, and are still sending out, many of the best books for the young that can be found in the market. Their "Bright Day Series," "Crown Jewel Library," "Rainy Day Stories," and many other volumes, are among the best of their class. They are to send out a fresh list the coming season, of rare merit, for whose coming our readers will do well to keep on the lookout.

THE LADY'S FRIEND FOR MARCH.—A beautiful steel engraving of Windsor Castle, the residence of Queen Victoria, is the opening embellishment of the March number of this "Queen of the Monthlies." Then we have the large plate of Colored Fashions, giving the latest styles from Paris. This is followed by a charming spring scene, "The Swallow's Nest." The music for this number is "The Bedford Springs' Polka." Among the numerous wood-cuts illustrating the latest styles for Jackets, Suits, &c., the ladies will find a riding-dress of the newest fashion. The literary matter is unusually varied and attractive.—Published by Deacon & Peterson, 319 Walnut Street, Philadephia. Price $2,50 a year.

THE OLD GUARD for March has a continuation of "The Heir of Gaymount;" "The Supreme court and the States versus Congress;" "Fair Elizabeth;" "Und r Supicion;" "Down Among Dead Men;" and other interesting reading mater. The day of her death was to her the joyful triumph and the entering in upon a life of untold and eternal joy and happiness. Me.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one Medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always and that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For DYSPEPSIA or INDIGESTION, LISTLESSNESS, LANGUOR and LOSS of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For LIVER COMPLAINT and its various symptoms, BILLIOUS HEADACHE, SICK HEADACHE, JAUNDICE or Green SICKNESS, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For DYSENTERY or DIARRHŒA, but one mild dose is generally required.

For RHEUMATISM, GOUT, GRAVEL, PALPITATION OF THE HEART, PAIN IN THE SIDE, BACK and LOINS, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For DROPSY and DROPSICAL SWELLINGS they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For SUPPRESSION a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a DINNER PILL, take one or two pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these PILLS makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometime subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So compiete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

AYER'S AGUE CURE,
For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Billious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in no wise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or traveling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

THE ONLY RELIABLE CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA
IN THE KNOWN WORLD.

Dr. Wishart's Great American Dyspepsia Pills and Pine Tree Tar Cordial are a positive and infallable cure for Dyspepsia in its most aggravated form, and no matter of how long standing.

They penetrate the secret abode of this terrible disease, and exterminate to it, root and branch, forever.

They alleviate more agony and silent suffering than tongue can tell.

They are noted for curing the most desperate and hopeless cases, when every known means fail to afford relief.

No form of Dyspepsia or Indijestion can resist their penetrating power,

PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL.

It is the vital principle of the Pine Tree obtained by a peculiar process in the distillation of the tar, by which its highest medical properties are retained. It invigorates the digestive organs and restores the appetite. It strengthens the debilitated system. It purifies and enriches the blood, and expels from the system the corruption which scrofula breeds on the lungs. It dissolves the mucus or phlegm which stops the air passages of the lungs Its healing principle acts upon the irritated surface of the lungs and throat, penetrating to each diseased part, relieving pain and subduing inflammation. It is the result of years of study and experiment, and it is offered to the afflicted with positive assurance of its power to cure the following diseases if the patient has not too long delayed a resort to the means of cure:

Consumption of the Lungs, Cough, Sore Throat and Breast, Bronchitis, Liver Complaint, Blind and Bleeding Piles, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Diptheria, &c.

A medical expert, holding honorable collegiate diplomas, devotes his entire time to the examination of patients at the office parlors. Associated with him are three consulting physicians of acknowledged eminence, whose services are given to the public free of charge.

This opportunity is offered by no other institution in the country.

Letters from any part of the country, asking advice, will be promptly and gratuitously responded to. Where convenient, remittances should take the shape of MUSICAL DOINGS.—Since Mr. Waters gave up publishing sheet music, he has devoted his whole capital and attention to the manufacture and sale of Pianos and Melodeons. He has just issued a catalogue of his new instruments, giving a new scale of prices, which shows a marked reduction from former rates, and his Pianos have recently been awarded the First Premium at several Fairs. Many people of the present day, who are attracted, if not confused, with the flaming adeertisements of rival piano houses, probably overlook the modest manufacturer like Mr. Waters; but we happen to know that his instruments earned him a good reputation long before Expositions and "honors" connected therewith were ever thought of; indeed, we have one of Mr. Waters' Pianofortes now in our residence (where it has stood for many years,) of which any manufacturer in the world might well be proud. We have always been delighted with it as a sweet-toned and powerful instrument, and there is no doubt of its durability; more than this, some of the best amateur player, in the city, as well as several celebrated pianists have performed on the same piano, and all pronounce it a superior and first-class instrument. Stronger endorsement we could not give.—Home Journal. jan15,'69.

THE WEEKLY WORLD,

a large quarto sheet, printed throughout in large type and published every Wednesday morning, has now the largest circulation of any weekly newspaper in the United States, with possibly, a single exception. Among its prominent features are:

1. Its very full and accurate market reports, embracing the Live Stock markets of New York, Albany, Cambridge, and Philadelphia; and New York Country Produce Market, and General Produce Markets of the country; and full reports of the New York Money Market. Each of the reports are complied with great care, and contain the latest quotations that can be obtained up to the time of putting the paper to press.
2. Its Agricultural Department, which contains each week articles on practical and scientific farming that are of great value to American farmers. A special feature of this department is a weekly summary of the condition of the Hop Markets at home and abroad.
3. A very full report of the proceedings of the Farmers' Club of the American Institute is printed in each issue of the Weekly World, the day after the meeting of the Club. By this arrangement the report appears in the Weekly World one week in advance of its publication in any other weekly paper.
4. A portion of the Weekly World is reserved for family reading matter, including original and selected stories, poems, waifs of humor, and extracts from books and periodicals.—Particular attention will be given to this department during the year 1870.
5. A special feature of the Weekly World is a carefully complied summary of the news of each week. It is made so complete that no one who reads it can fail of being well posted on all the important news of the day.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY WORLD,

published Tuesday and Friday, is a large quarto sheet, containing all the news published in the Daily World, with the exception of such local reports as may be of no interest to non-residents of New York City. Its market reports are as full as those of the Daily edition, and it contains, besides interesting literary matter, on Friday of each week a full report of the Farmers' Club.

OUR NEW FAMILY SEWING MACHINE.

The superior merits of the "Singer" Machines over all others, for either Family use or Manufacturing purposes, are so well established and so generally admitted, that an enumeration of their relative excellences is no longer considered necessary.

OUR NEW FAMILY MACHINE,

which has been brought to perfection regardless of time, labor, or expense, is now confidently presented to the public as incomparably the Best Sewing Machine in existence. The machine in question is Simple, Compact, Durable and Beautiful. It is quiet, light running, and never before attempted upon a single Machine,—using either SILK, TWIST, LINEN OR COTTON THREAD, and sewing with equal facility the very finest and coarsest materials, and anything between the two extremes, in the most beautiful and substantial manner. Its attachments for Hemming, Braiding, Cording, Tucking, Quilting, Felling, Trimming, Binding, etc., are Novel and Practical, and have been invented and adjusted especially for this Machine.

New designs of the Unique, Useful, and Popular Folding Tops and Cabinet Cases, peculiar to the Machines manufactured by this Company, have been prepared for enclosing the new Machine.

A faint idea, however, can at best be conveyed through the medium of a (necessarily) limited advertisement; and we therefore urge every person in quest of a Sewing Machine, by all means to examine and test, if they can possibly do so, all the leading rival Machines before making a purchase. A selection can then be made understandingly. Branches or agencies for supplying the "Singer" Machines will be found in nearly every city and town throughout the civilized world, where Machines will be cheerfully exhibited, and any information promptly furnished. MIDDLETON'S

ONDERFUL PAIN CURE.

A sure remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Growing Pains, Sprains, Bruises, Stiffnes, of the Joints and all similar diseases.

This wonderful remedy is composed entirely of vegetable ingredients. There are no injurious substances used in its manufacture.

For assurance of its excellent properties, read the followiag certificates:

BEDFORD, May 3, 1869.

I take great pleasure in giving my testimony to the value of "Middleton's Wonderful Pain Cure." I have been a martyr to Rheumatism. For two months previous to Feb. 25th, last, I was suffering intensely with pain so severe, that during all that time I had not one night of comfortable sleep. I could not put my hands to my face, could not comb my own hair, nor feed myself; but after having the Pain Cure applied once, I found relief enough to give me comfortable sleep, and with its steady use, I continued to get better, and now at the end of ten weeks from its first application, I have comparatively free use of my hands, sleep well and can attend to business. It has done me more good than all other medicines I have ever used put together, and I cheerfully give this certificate of its value.

ELI M. FISHER.

BEDFORD, April 14, 1869.

Mr. W. W. Middleton,

This is to certify that I was taken with Rheumatism, in my right shoulder, on the evening of the 8th inst., so that I was unable to raise my h
